Pentation Analytics announces the launch of new Partner Program

Mumbai: 9th August, 2017

Pentation Analytics Partner Program enables organizations to offer the company's product - Insurance Analytics Suite, to their clients.

Pentation Analytics has launched a Partner Program to on-board interested organizations for distributing their flagship product, Insurance Analytics Suite. Interested organizations can re-sell Insurance Analytics Suite by developing a joint strategy to market and sell the product to their clients.

Benefits of the program include competitive financial and technical advantages to help partners grow their business via Insurance Analytics Suite. Providers will have access to product training through the Pentation Analytics Partner Program, in addition to priority support during the pre-sales, sales and delivery process.

The Partner Portal is available on http://www.pentationanalytics.com/partners

Through the portal, organizations can register to become a partner, or refer leads without registering for the partnership program.
